

Making Connections with Stories of Art

by Mary Erickson

How Stories of Art Increases Motivation:

- Stories can increase motivation when students identify with the young people in a story
- Stories can increase motivation by showing how art can be an active force for people in society

